April is the Month of the Military Child. In the midst of everything we are going through, let us not forget to celebrate the children of our servicemembers. While we are honoring the first responders and those essential employees working to fight COVID19, let us also remember these children who deal with separations, deployments, frequent moves and even their parents' injuries as part of the life they were born into or entered with their families.

Show your support and wear purple on April 28 in honor of the Military Child.

Show us your purple by snapping a quick photo and sharing it on social media! Be sure to use #PatriotsPurpleUp and our accounts on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram, @GMUH RandPayroll, will repost it! Don’t have social media? Email your snapshot to hrcomm@gmu.edu and we will share it on our social media pages.
